FIRST FOLD

the atmosphere around our planet.

It is human nature to fear that which it does not understand. And our world is a skeptical place, filled with people who do not trust one another because they do not understand one another. Realizing this, the space people know they are looked upon with fear. Yet their purpose is to help us do the best of their ability, without forcing their will upon us. Already they have kept us from flaring cold war into open conflagration on three different occasions that I know of. They are still exerting this effort because they know that a flaring war at this time would mean the destruction of today's civilization on this planet. Already our ignorance has so polluted our atmosphere that it is dangerous. For the last seven years or more they have helped us in this respect too, because on innumerable occasions, when they have come upon such dangerous cloud formations, they have disintegrated them with rays of higher frequency, but they have never deliberately destroyed any Earth ship or person. All of their efforts have been toward helping. Of this I have been assured, in spite of many contrary reports from those who judge, but have no real knowledge.
