Yet it is hoaxes like that, and there are a number of others who have proclaimed themselves to be space people, that brings discredit upon an event that is most beautiful and could be of greater help to Earth's humanity than anything else in our present time.

We have received reports of a steel band of space ships circling the Earth to protect us. This is not true either. Since all of their attempts so far have met with such little success, they are withdrawing many of their ships that moved through our atmosphere in the past. Instead they are devoting their efforts in helping us learn how to travel space correctes in the hope that when our own people land on the moon and their planets, see for themselves the people and conditions there and return to Earth with reports of their findings, they will be believed. They hope in this way we will grow toward greater respect for one another than is present today. In this way they hope we will be able to overcome our mistrusts, eliminate our divisions and become united into the one family the Greator intended His children to be in this world, and throughout the Commos.

I do not wish to appear constantly to be the one having true, factual information for I know others also have it, too. Yet when snything like recent events takes place, I get bombarded with questions as to why. In ITSS I reported what I saw in outer space. Our satellites have proven my report correct. Later I reported that our equipment was unable to detect atmosphere around other planets because of their inosphere. Our oun satellite gave the same report regarding the Earth, if you remember -that there is no oxygen here and therefore could be no life on our planet. While in Europe earlier this year I learned about the moon rocket to be shot to the moon with the intent of landing there. That has taken place. I further learned that a ship had been built for three people, two men and a woman, to be sent to and landed on the moon to establish communication between our satellites and our planet. This was planned for the near future, unless those plans have been changed. They wanted to get a little more information regarding conditions on the moin before sending people there for landing. Later, after the communications have been established successfully, they plan to s end one or more ships of scientists and mechanics of both sexes to build a base from which their ships can be returned to Earth, thereby establishing a regular space lame for interplanetary travel by us. It has been reported that the ships for this purpose are already under construction.

I can tell you too that when they arrive there, they will be greeted as friends by those already there, and helped in many ways. It would be the same for anybody who landed on the moon or another planet. But again let me remind you that their attemps must at all times for learning and never for war and destruction, if successful landings are to be made. The space travelers bur no one from going into outer space so long as their intentions are for learning. The Russians are as much God's people as we and God favors none any more the sun which shines on all alike. Neither do the space people. They will work with all who will work with them. Would you work with a man who every time you appeared before him started shooting at you, as has been done in many parts of the world when apace craft have appeared? Or would you work with those who welcomed you and tried to work with you?
