

As most of you know, in March of 1962, I was privileged to attend a conference on the planet Saturn. The first portion of the information received has been released and now I have been given the "brothers" permission to give the second part.

First let me say this to those who have written to me in regard to the speed of the ship. I am not sure I can explain in understandable words the exact sensation I felt, but I will do my best. Nine hours after we left this earth the ship landed on Saturn. I know this sounds incredible due to the terrific distance involved, however I will try to explain how it was done.

There is no limitation to the speed of conscious thought. This ship which carried us to Saturn was built using the same principles of conscious law. Once out of the earth's atmosphere the ship began to operate under the same principles of action as our own conscious thought. The ship took on an attitude of consciousness, let us say, where all the molecules and atoms making up the material of the ship, became conscious entities grouped together with one purpose of service, that of carrying the human entities to their destination. Time as we know it was not involved, for we could have been there in five seconds just as easily. The extra time was taken to acquaint us with this particular law and to condition us for the experience we were going to have.

As near as I can explain-this law works something like the artist who paints a scene and puts himself into it to the extent that when one observes the picture, although aware of paint and canvas, there is a feeling as if the picture were a living thing. This ship I was on was constructed under such a law and was a living entity constructed of billions of entities making up all the atoms and molecules.

This experience explained one thing to me, and that is what was meant by the expression "being carried on the wings of angels." Even though the ship was solid and constructed of metal as any other ship, yet if it had encountered a meteorite it would have deflected it.

While we on the inside of the ship remained as normal as you are when reading this, our physical bodies experienced a sensation of lightness and a feeling that was indescribable--of eternal well being. There was no awareness of distance away from the earth or strangeness and my mind gave me the sensation of being cared for by delicate hands. Yet I was fully aware of a change taking place within my body and was later informed that the molecules of my body caused the feeling of oneness. I was also told that had I been outside looking at the ship as it passed through endless space, my mind would probably have thought it was just a brilliant star, it was that luminous.

This was a cosmic ship using a cosmic law and energy which moves and supports all forms throughout the cosmos. The actual speed of the ship could not be measured in numbers, for this type is used mostly between systems where great distances are involved and seldom used between planets of a system, unless an emergency exists. Every detail was exquisite and the feeling that one received was beyond description.

Even the pilots were not ordinary for while there were all types of instruments in the ship they were not ordinary ones since they were subject to the pilots own consciousness. When we landed on Saturn and looked at the ship it was glowing with very delicate, alive colors and as we looked at each other each individual was glowing in the same manner. We were charged with the same power as the ship but after an hour or so the glow diminished.

I LEARN PAST HISTORY OF THE EARTH

In part 1 of this report I gave the procedure after we landed and the description of the buildings where the conference was held. I described those who sat at my table but I did not mention that twelve other tables were there also. At each of these tables sat 12 great Souls, (one at each table,) and with them sat the rulers of each planet. These great souls were once known as messiahs on earth.

Here you may ask: Who was the Great One who sat at our table? He was the representation of the other twelve, the conscious consciousness of all embodied into one. On earth we would class this as the consciousness of the Creator, which we label Christ. This does not mean Jesus, for Jesus was a personality and Christ is conscious consciousness or cosmic consciousness. Jesus, as an individual, schooled himself to permit this consciousness to express through his form and in this manner he was able to say, "I, as an earthly form have made the blend with my Creator, so now I can say I and the Father are one."

All of the Messiahs present were on earth at one time and each came with one purpose, to show the true way of life. Earth was not the only planet they visited, for the same service was granted to Mars, I was told.

Mars, like earth, had destroyed a number of civilizations that lived on her planet. In fact, it was the Martians who came to earth and taught man the game of war. Although they have grown beyond that now and progressed far beyond earth people in that respect, in others they are still behind us and could revert back to defense, but they would have to have provocation to do so. On the other hand, Venus and Saturn do not have these tendencies. (Mars might not turn the other cheek as Venus and Saturn would.)

Some 10,000 years ago a large number of advanced Venusians migrated to earth in opposition to the Martian law then practiced and were successful in changing some of the laws towards the advancement of man. In fact, people from a number of planets in our system established themselves on earth and fought each other for control of people on earth. Those who did not believe in war were killed by those who did and the Venusians were among those killed.

Thus, through this mixture of ideas, confusion spread over the earth and as a result many types of gods have been worshipped ever since. This is one reason why the interest of other planets is in the earth, to correct the wrong they have sown among the people. This is also the reason why so many messiahs have come to dispel the false tales that were left here by the early visitors in exciting the imagination of earth people to the idea they must honor and serve them.

HOW THE EARTH WAS BETRAYED

Only three planets of our system betrayed the people of earth centuries ago. They were Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The beings from Jupiter left the impression that their planet was the home of the Supreme Being, which is false. Thus, in mythology, Jupiter was known as the planet of divinity.

Saturn was considered as the planet of Satan, falsely taught by those from Jupiter, for Saturn is the planet of justice. These differences between the planets went on for centuries and centuries and for thousands of years most of the trouble was caused by the three planets mentioned previously.

Mars was the first to develop spacecraft which were used, with their allies, to disrupt the balance of the system. Only during the last 5,000 years have corrections been undertaken by the three planets.

It was explained at the conference how the mythical entity, Satan, was introduced to subject the people of earth unto their will. Since not all of the inhabitants of the three planets were in accord with those who came to earth, so vast differences of opinion existed, just as we witness today between nations of earth. Since that time Satan, becoming an entity to people of earth, has been used by religious elements as a means of fear to force or discipline their followers to follow their dictates.

At first people did not adhere to this method of persuasion so the leaders instituted a punishment in hell for those who disobeyed. This hell was not below, but above, and they chose Mercury as its location. As Mercury was thought to be hot, as was the sun in those days, they figured everything on Mercury must be boiling. And so the idea of torture in hell-fire was born. People accepted this very readily since they knew the sun produced heat on the earth. When the term "down to the depths of hell" was used it had reference to a person falling away from the original belief and therefore subject to punishment.

Of course all of this is and has been false, but it did serve the purpose for which it was meant, even to this day. The only hell there is is what man creates by living contrary to the laws of life (universal laws).

So this war between the creator and satan has been going on ever since these false teachings were perpetrated upon man. This is also the meaning of the "fallen angels" who betrayed men of earth thousands of years ago. In these latter days this is gradually coming to light and man is beginning to look nature in the face for the meaning of the true way of life, going to it for they know it is the Creator's real expression.

HOW WILL MAN LEARN ALL THESE LAWS OF NATURE?

By venturing into outer space man will learn nature's laws faster than by any other method. Nature never rests but is in a constant state of re-creation, called by some evolution. Man is also in this constant process of creation, that is the reason he feels that the perfection of himself is yet to come. But, before this reality will become his, he will go through many, many changes which will come much faster than in the past. Especially when he once begins to understand the laws of life under which he lives, for at this very moment he is already beginning a new cycle of life. This cycle, if he adheres to its advantages, will bring him unexpected rewards. He will be replacing falseness with the reality of his relationship to all life, thus allowing him to realize that he and the Creator are one.

The chambers of knowledge and wisdom are now opened unto man, but faith in the future must be his foundation. This to some may be called blind faith, as man knows not what the distant future holds for him, but he will never know until he reaches that stage. So trust and confidence must be part of that faith in those who will guide one on the road to eternity.

Through this process man will face many unpleasant events and even pain in some cases, when his personality or ego must give up many things of its own creation. This is not easy, for it calls for a strong conviction to walk the narrow path of eternity. According to present indications not many will adhere to this at first or have the strength and conviction, along with willingness, to change.

The earthly bonds which each individual has allowed to govern their thinking will demand the right of existence. As a result the war between natural law and un-natural law, or the habits of the past and the truth of the future, is on. Babylon is beginning to shake on its foundations and the false gods can be heard everywhere, for the day of their doom is at hand. But for some time yet they shall appear as a power on earth and many will worship at their feet, for personal possessions will demand protection in order to survive.

False creations have been the masters of men until now, instead of man being the master of them-but he is coming into that mastery. The weak shall fall by the wayside while the strong go on to victory over the falseness with which they were made to live.

Every grain of sand will be affected and mold itself into the image of its own creator in the processes of eternity. This is the message, as it was given to me and all that were present at the conference on Saturn.

ADDITIONAL TRAINING GIVEN

Some weeks after my Saturn trip I was again privileged to meet with the "brothers" for a period of intensive training and teaching in one of the spacepeople's "mobile training schools." The training was directed toward how the true conditions of our times are to be explained and given to those who desire the reality of life and are willing to give up the ego for their "real self." For it is of such that eternity is made.

Speaking of the mobile school, the one I was on was a large ship equipped with all the latest developments in pictures and illustrations of the actual workings of the law. Everything needed now and for the future and what it holds is on such a ship, showing what the results will be by applying the creative law. Also we were shown in what part of the human body the creative law is situated. Much of this information cannot be released to the public as yet, but will be released to those few who really prove themselves ready to discard the old for the new.

This ship came to a position within 5,000 miles of earth and was stationed immobile in space with respect to earth during the time the classes were being conducted. There were many scholars and instructors present and an intensive study for eighteen hour periods was given, yet no tiredness of any kind was felt by those present. Two hours of the remaining time was spent in bodily exercises and another four hours was free to be spent as one desired. This went on for a number of days.

Other classes of this nature will be given in the future. Please do not ask to be included. It is the choice of the spacepeople. They will select those who will participate and will have nothing to say in the matter.

I have been asked: "Will a person be able to acquire this knowledge through reading matter?" The answer is yes, but it will take much longer than if a person were in the presence of an instructor who would be able to answer questions and discuss problems as they presented themselves.

Writing impressions after reading a portion of what is studied will help, but applying it in daily life is the best way for those who cannot be in the presence of an instructor.

One progresses much faster working with a teacher, naturally, providing one gives themselves over, in either case, to the sincere study of what they are undertaking. But beyond all, they must have faith and trust in the instructor, even though all earthlings make mistakes and are subject to them. The student must not allow himself to become upset over them, if he is to benefit from the study.

The student will no doubt make many mistakes during the process of growth. He will have to be corrected and some corrections may not be pleasant. But an understanding of this and a determination to learn will aid him in reaching the goal. I only wish it was possible for every student to sit with an instructor for it is then they grow more quickly.

Throughout my many years of teaching I have had examples of the development of a student, where they have done typing and assumed other responsibilities, for they have grown to a point where they had the understanding to carry on the work in my absence. Yet, when the crucial moment arrived where corrections were personal and in some cases unpleasant to the human mind, mistrust took place of the trust and faith they formerly had. When this happened information was sought from outside sources that knew nothing about the process and confusion followed.

In these cases the students usually lose all that was gained and all that could have been gotten, and slipped back to common confusion of everyday life. Perhaps they will never have the same opportunity again, for environment is the master of men.

If you, dear reader, should decide to undertake this deeper study, either through correspondence courses or direct, the mind should be made up to strike out for a goal, regardless of what happens, and not listen to the opinions of others who know nothing about the finer things of life.

If you cannot do this, you better stay as you are. For if this attitude is not assumed and carried through, you will have nothing but a life of confusion, especially with this new study which will be different and deeper than any given to date.
